The Ohio Agricultural Council presents the...

40th Annual Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame Awards Program

August 12, 2005 • Rhodes Youth Center
Ohio Expo Center • The Ohio State Fair

A message from Ohio's Governor...

It is a great honor to join the Ohio Agricultural Council to recognize the 2005 Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame Inductees for their outstanding lifelong service and dedication to Ohio's agricultural industry. Over the years, their dedication has helped to maintain Ohio's strong agricultural economy, contributed to the advancement of the industry and helped to preserve our state's heritage.

Agriculture has served the social, environmental and economic needs of Ohio's citizens for more than 200 years. A key component of Ohio's current economic success, agriculture supports many other sectors, contributing more than $70 billion to Ohio's economy each and every year. Ohio has 80,000 farm families who put food on our table, fuel in our vehicles and create good jobs for our economy.

We are blessed to live in a state where agriculture is such a large part of our heritage and such an important part of our future. On behalf of all Ohioans, I thank the inductees for their commitment to advancing agriculture in Ohio.

*Bob Taft, Governor
State of Ohio*

A message from the Director of Agriculture...

Reflecting on past decades, it seems appropriate to look at the many contributions agriculture has made to Ohio's heritage. It is also important to acknowledge those extraordinary leaders who have made agriculture their life's work. These individuals have given so much of themselves to the industry they love.

It is an honor to recognize this year's four inductees into the Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame. On behalf of all Ohioans, we congratulate them on this significant accomplishment.

*Fred L. Dailey, Director
Ohio Department of Agriculture*

A message from the Ohio Agricultural Council...

The four honorees who we are recognizing today truly exemplify outstanding leadership and service to agriculture. Each one has made great contributions to Ohio's agricultural industry.

We are privileged to recognize these individuals at the 40th Ohio Agricultural Council Hall of Fame event.

On behalf of OAC, we congratulate the inductees and permanently place their names and pictures in the Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame located in the Rhodes Center.

Ohio Agricultural Council

Membership in the Ohio Agricultural Council is open to organizations, companies and individuals who have an interest in the well-being and promotion of the agricultural industry in Ohio. Annual dues for organizations or companies are $200 and for individuals are $50.

The purpose of the Ohio Agricultural Council is...

- To provide a vehicle through which those interested in agriculture may work together; a place where members may exchange ideas, strive to achieve mutual understanding and where they may coordinate their efforts.
- To build a favorable image of Ohio's agriculture through an effective public relations program.

OAC Programming Efforts

AgVenture Magazine

OAC publishes and distributes this award-winning agricultural publication to nearly 7,000 fourth grade teachers and reaches more than 190,000 fourth graders in Ohio at the cost of mere pennies per issue. AgVenture promotes Ohio agriculture emphasizing the importance of food, fiber, floriculture and nursery production, processing and distribution in Ohio.

COSI (Center of Science and Industry) — Columbus, Ohio

OAC provided leadership and funding for two interactive agricultural experiences at COSI. "The Big Yummy" is an animatronic musical variety show starring various food characters who teach COSI visitors about the importance of food sources, nutrition and safety. Additionally, "Bet the Farm," Web site allows COSI's on site and cyber guests to explore the business of agriculture.

Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame

Created by the Ohio Agricultural Council in 1966, the Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame has now honored nearly 170 agriculturists who have dedicated their lives of outstanding work to Ohio's number one industry — agriculture.

Member Meetings

Held two to three times per year, full of variety, with educational and entertaining guest speakers, the Council's meetings are frequently at field locations such as Scott's, OSU, Ohio Stadium and other venues of interest. OAC meetings are open to members and guests.

Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame

Enshrinement in the Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame is Ohio's highest recognition of an individual who has made outstanding contributions to the agricultural industry. Each year four prominent agricultural leaders are honored and inducted into the Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame for their superior service, dedication, leadership and plentiful contributions to agriculture.

Nomination and Selection Process

Persons wishing to nominate an individual who he or she believes is deserving of consideration for induction into the Ohio Agricultural Hall of Fame may secure a nomination form through any Ohio Agricultural Council member or write to the Ohio Agricultural Council, Jane Scott, 4640 Wyandotte Drive, Columbus, Ohio 43230. Nominations must be submitted by March 15, 2006, in order to be eligible for consideration in 2006.

The selection process is such that members of the Hall of Fame committee appoint three individuals to a selection committee. In order to retain the high degree of integrity, the identity of the members of the selection committee is kept in confidence and precautions are taken to avoid the possibility of an individual serving on the selection committee more than one time.

2005 Honorees

Clarence J. Cunningham

A 1949 graduate of Fredericksburg High School, Clarence J. Cunningham has distinguished himself through lifelong work in 4-H leadership and agricultural extension service. With BS, MS and doctorate degrees from The Ohio State University, Cunningham began his career teaching vocational agricultural at Northwestern HS, Raymond, from 1953-55. He enlisted in the US Army and spent 1955-57 in military intelligence.

Following service, he worked as an OSU 4-H Extension Educator in Pickaway County from 1957-60, when he became an OSU 4-H State Faculty Member. For the next 28 years, Cunningham progressed through the ranks of 4-H administration and OSU Extension holding several positions including Associate Director of Extension and Acting Director of Extension. He was an agricultural education professor and was active in national Extension and 4-H.

He has volunteered for the Nationwide and Ohio Farm Bureau 4-H Center, Wesley Glen Retirement Community, Northwest United Methodist Church, Kiwanis, Boy Scouts and Hilliard Public Schools.

Cunningham and his wife Jane live in Hilliard. He has two grown sons, Larry Cunningham and Russell Cunningham.

Neal F. Schirm

Neal F. Schirm earned local, state and national recognition as an exemplary Jersey cattle breeder, dairy producer and farmer. Schirm purchased his first Jersey heifer as an FFA project when he was a freshman in high school and invested the next 55 years of his life developing his herd on his family farm near Canal Winchester, Franklin County, Ohio. Involved in his community and in agriculture statewide, Schirm was the first president of the fledgling Ohio Young Farmers Association, served on boards of the Ohio Jersey Breeders Association, Franklin County Farm Bureau, Milk Marketing, Inc. and the Central Ohio Milk Producers Association. An innovator, he was one of the founders and original delegates to the Central Ohio Breeders Association (COBA).

The Schirm family, Neal's wife Mary and their sons Paul, Larry and daughter Sara worked together on the farm and competed showing their cattle regionally winning many top honors for showmanship, breeding and milk production. In the mid-1980s, Schirm cattle were producing 18,137 pounds of milk, 763 pounds of fat and 628 pounds of protein and were ranked fourth in the nation.

With the American Jersey Cattle Association (AJCA) headquarters near their farm, the Schirms opened their operation to students, boards and visitors from around the country and world. Schirm was a delegate to the AJCA and in 2004 they honored him with their Distinguished Service Award.

In the shadows of Columbus, the Schirm homestead is now being developed for housing and is known as the Village at Schirm Farms. Son Paul continues his father's herd and high quality tradition in Jersey Cattle in West Salem, Ohio, while 81-year old Neal and his wife Mary live in a housing community near Canal Winchester.

Robert W. Teater

A Kentucky native, Robert W. Teater holds a BS degree in agriculture from the University of Kentucky and an MS and Ph.D. in agronomy from The Ohio State University, where he taught agronomy from 1957-1961. He served as Executive Assistant to the Director and later Assistant Director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources from 1961-69 before returning to OSU. As Associate Dean for the College of Agriculture and Home Economics he was the Assistant Director of the OARDC from 1969-1971. For the next four years, he served as Associate Dean and Director of the School of Natural Resources, where he built the school from 200 students to more than 800.

He returned to government in 1975 serving as the Director, Ohio Department of Natural Resources until January 1983. He founded Robert W. Teater & Associates and led the way on several international natural resource development projects including the creation of a 9,000-acre Muskingum County research and education center for endangered species known as The Wilds.

For 32 years Teater served in the Ohio National Guard rising to Major General, earning the Distinguished Service Medal, Combat Infantry Badge and Bronze Star for service in Korea. Teater was elected for three terms on the Board of Education for Columbus City School, where he served three years as president.

Teater and his wife Dorothy have four sons David, James, Donald and Andrew and live in the Clintonville neighborhood of Columbus.

John D. Weaver

Born in Dayton in 1926, John D. Weaver is the driving force behind the success of nationally-recognized egg production facility Weaver Brothers, Versailles, since the 1950s. Sacrificing a career in professional football, Weaver returned to the family business after four years at Miami University, where he led the school to a win in the college's first bowl appearance.

He became the vice president of Weaver Brothers in 1957 and president in 1967, which he held until his retirement in 1991. During his service to his family firm, the company grew from contract egg production and purchases from small farms in Ohio (approximately 200,000 layers) to an operation including 3.5 million layers, a feed mill producing 150,000 tons annually and 2,000 acres. Weaver was a charter board member of the United Egg Production Association, the American Egg Board and the Ohio Egg Marketing Committee, as well as board member and president of the Midwest United Egg Producers.

Weaver founded the Versailles Poultry Days, served on Versailles Village Council, was a member and president of the Versailles Lions Club, a Trustee of the United Church of Christ and was named Versailles Citizen of the Year in 1995.

Weaver and his wife Mary Bell live near Versailles and have grown children Tim Weaver, Jill Brown, Collette Weaver and Beth Wheaton.

BUILDING DFA BRIDGES

DFA ... Building Bridges

DFA is owned and led by dairy farmers, for dairy farmers. Our number one goal is to bridge the gap between dairy farmers and consumers, ensuring access to profitable markets for our milk. We achieve this goal by building bridges between DFA farmer-owners and other dairy farmers, co-ops, processors and retailers. By banding together, the farmer-owners of DFA are preserving a way of life for America's independent dairy farmers – whether they are milking 40 or 4,000 cows. DFA is building bridges through cooperation and leading the entire industry to a better future.

Congratulations to Neal Schirm from the producer-members and employees of Dairy Farmers of America!
